MEETING OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Friday afternoon the Woman's Club rooms were open for the regular monthly social to which a member is permitted to be accompanied by a friend. The rooms, decorated with ferns and other cool looking plants and flowers by the hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. O. T. Green, Mrs. G. T. Maughs and Mrs. J. K. Austin, were very refreshing.

The president being away, the vice president, Mrs. Mote, acted as master of ceremonies. The musical program, under the management of Mrs. A. L. Izlar, began with a selection on the Pianola-Piano, which is being demonstrated in Ocala at present by Mr. J. L. Carter, who is sent out by the Ludden & Bates Company of Jacksonville. His selections played during the afternoon were heartily applauded.

Dr. Dodge who needs no introduction to the Ocala ladies, was then called upon for a talk. He held the closest attention of his audience for half an hour with his well chosen and appropriate subject, "Domestic Economy." Dr. Dodge dwelled long and forcefully on the servant question and clearly showed that while help would not be satisfactory unless the ladies would band themselves together and demand such and such requirements from the colored help they employed, that the servant question would grow more perplexing. He said educate the colored girl to do domestic duties and employ only the ones that have been educated to do such. Dr. Dodge's words were earnest and should be followed.

Mrs. Lapham then sang sweetly "A Crown of Love," which was followed by the "Land of the Leal" and "Slumber Boat," sung by Mrs. Mote. Mrs. Izlar played each of the accompaniments and was congratulated upon the beautiful program she prepared.

As each arrived they were refreshed with a glass of cool and delicious mint punch served by the hostesses from the club punch bowl, which was surrounded with ferns and nasturtiums.

After the conclusion of the program an half an hour social was enjoyed, punch and tea wafers being passed by Misses Annie Davis and Annie Atkinson.

The out of town visitors present included Mrs. A. B. Eld of Leesburg, and Mrs. J. M. Jackson, of Miami.

REVIVAL SERVICES
